

Canada-Alberta Job Grant

Quick Reference Guide

Overview

The Canada-Alberta Job Grant (CAJG) is an employer-driven program that helps employers invest in training for current and future employees.

Employers are eligible for two-thirds of the total approved training cost, up to $10,000 per trainee, per fiscal year for current employees. For unemployed trainees, employers can receive up to 100 per cent of approved training costs, up to $15,000 per trainee per fiscal year.

The maximum amount an employer can be reimbursed is $300,000 per fiscal year.

Temporary program changes

The CAJG introduced temporary policy changes effective until February 28, 2022. This includes:

- Eligible trainees now include:
 - employed family members of eligible employers
 - business owners (incorporated, unincorporated/sole-proprietor and partnerships) with 4 or fewer employees, including all owners
- Training is not required to be incremental

Eligibility

Applications to the Canada-Alberta Job Grant are assessed using the following eligibility criteria. Meeting eligibility criteria does not guarantee funding approval.

How to apply

Please visit alberta.ca/cajg to submit to apply through the application portal.

Applicants are advised to submit applications at least 30 days in advance of the start date of the training.

Applications are not considered “received” by CAJG until all trainees have submitted their consent via email.

Other training grants cannot be combined with CAJG funded training for the same trainee and the same training.

Refer to the applicant guide for full terms and conditions of the Canada-Alberta Job Grant (CAJG)

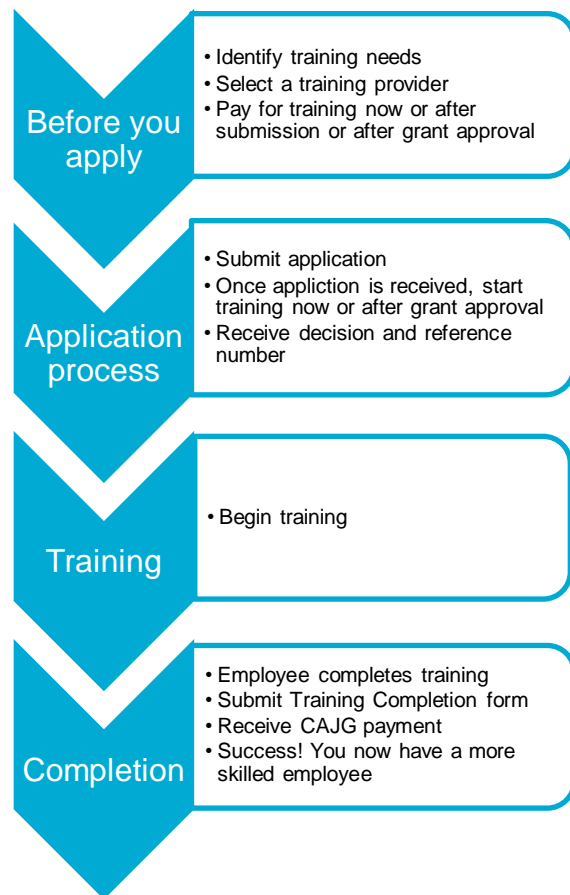

Reimbursement

Once the training is complete, applicants must submit their completion form within 30 day.

Only training that started after the application was received is eligible for reimbursement.

Employers have the option to receive two payment installments, if required. Please contact the CAJG team by emailing jobgrant@gov.ab.ca for details on interim reimbursements.
